

The Ontario Institute for Regenerative Medicine (OIRM) is a not-for-profit institute with a vision to revolutionize the treatment of degenerative diseases, making Ontario a global leader in the development of stem cell-based products and therapies. The OIRM is supported by the Ministry of Research and Innovation.

Stem Cell Rounds 2015-2016

Wednesday, March 2, 2015
4:00 pm to 5:00 pm

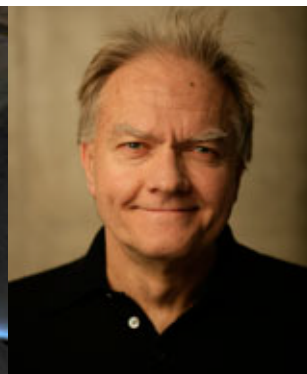

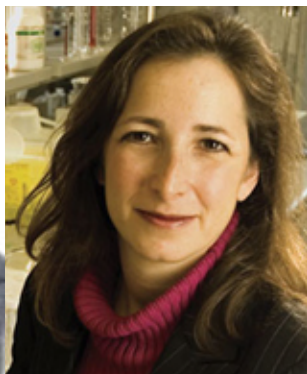

Red Seminar Room, Donnelly Centre, 2nd Floor, 160 College Street, University of Toronto

Refreshments will be served*

Cone photoreceptor derivation and transplantation

An innovative approach for the treatment of age-related macular regeneration

Presented by the 2014 OIRM funded Vision Disease Team

Valerie Wallace - Lead Professor
University of Toronto

Robert Devenyi Professor
University of Toronto

Molly Shoichet Professor
University of Toronto

Martin Steinbach Adjunct Professor
University of Toronto

Derek van der Kooy Professor
University of Toronto

OIRM Office space sponsored by: SickKids

OIRM event space sponsored by:  Donnelly Centre for Cellular + Biomolecular Research

For more details please contact:
everdina.carter@oirm.ca

Join the Webcast:
(Live at time of event)

www.oirm.ca